

Trees of the El Cerrito Hillside Open Space

entering from Schmidt Lane

D. Ackerly, 6/22/19

Dean of College of Natural Resources

University of California, Berkeley

Common name (CA natives in bold)	Scientific Name	Native range
Evergreen conifers:
Redwood	Sequoia sempervirens	California coast
Incense cedar		California mts.
Monterey cypress	Hesperocyparis	Central coast
Monterey pine	Pinus radiata	Central CA coast
Coulter pine	Pinus coulteri	Baja to Bay Area
Afghan pine	Pinus elderica	Central Asia
Stone pine	Pinus pinea	Med. Basin
Canary Island pine	Pinus canariensis	Canary Islands
Broadleaf flowering plants:
Coast live oak	Quercus agrifolia	Baja to Sonoma
Silk Tassel	Garrya elliptica	California
Flannel Bush	Fremontodendron californicum	Southern CA
Lemonade Berry	Rhus integrifolia	Southern CA
Cotoneaster sp.	Cotoneaster	Old World
Toyon	Heteromeles arbutifolia	California
Manzanita	Arctostaphylos sp.	California
Tree of Heaven	Ailanthus altissima	East Asia
Blue gum	Eucalyptus globulus	Australia
Elderberry	Sambucus sp.	California +
Winged/Siberian Elm	Ulmus sp.	Old world
Willow	Salix sp.	California +
California bay	Umbellularia californica	California
Peppertree	Schinus mole	South America
Apple	Malus sp.	Old World